About

Our Competition

Founded in 1998 as the Harvard–MIT Mathematics Tournament, HMMT is proud to celebrate its 30th season as one of the largest and most prestigious international high school math competitions. With a rich history of excellence and innovation, HMMT is a beacon for both curious minds and top scorers from national and international Olympiads, attracting more than 1500 students each season.

HMMT hosts two annual competitions, both organized entirely by our team of over 100 Harvard and MIT students. Our flagship February tournament is hosted at MIT, while our November tournament is hosted at Harvard. As one of the premier math competitions in the world, we have more students expressing interest than we can host. Registration occurs by lottery, and competitors can participate in only one of the February or November competitions.

Our Organization

Our organizing team comprises many tiers of involvement. Officers begin working towards the November–February competition cycle almost immediately after the previous season ends. Staff and general members contribute with a lower level of commitment, primarily assisting with volunteering at the tournaments. Every member of our team is passionate about bringing challenging and interesting mathematics to a high school audience, and many are alumni of the competitive math realm.

HMMT isn't just a math competition. We take great pride in working with sponsors to provide our competitors and organizers with the most engaging experience. Through events such as poker strategy talks, estimation challenges, and career panels, we strive to introduce students to applications for their mathematical skills that fit their quantitative backgrounds.

We invite you to be a part of our journey in the 2026-27 season! Together, let us build a strong partnership and excite some of the brightest problem-solvers. We're excited to collaborate and bring an unforgettable experience for our competitors.

Sponsoring HMMT

This year, we would like your support in engaging some of the most brilliant and scientifically-minded high school students from around the world. Sponsoring HMMT would not only increase your visibility among our competitors, but also among the Harvard and MIT students who organize and run HMMT. Each tournament begins with our Friday Night Events (FNE), dedicated exclusively to recognize sponsors and allow for socialization.

The packages below outline the benefits of each sponsorship tier. Please note that the Bronze, Silver, and Gold packages each apply to a single tournament, either November or February; however, these packages can be purchased for both tournaments. Our competitions, events, and community initiatives offer unique opportunities to host events, distribute merchandise, and engage with both competitors and volunteers.

Bronze

The Bronze package is priced at $2,000. Your logo will be included on our official website (hmmt.org) and in the information brochure for one tournament. Logo placement is prioritized according to sponsorship level. You will also have the opportunity to send us promotional flyers to distribute during the tournament.

Silver

The Silver package is priced at $5,000 and includes the benefits of the Bronze package. Additionally, you will be able to send us your branded merchandise, which we'll distribute to the competitors.

Gold

The Gold package is priced at $10,000 and includes the benefits of the Silver package. Additionally, you may send representatives to host a booth at one tournament, where you can interact with competitors and distribute branded merchandise. You may also hold an event during our Friday Night Events for participants before the competition, such as escape rooms, industry panels, and trading competitions.

Double Gold

The Double Gold package is priced at $17,000 and includes the benefits of the Gold package for both November and February tournaments. Furthermore, your logo will be included on official HMMT competitor and volunteer t-shirts, with placement according to sponsorship level.

Platinum

The Platinum package is priced at $25,000 and includes the benefits of the Double Gold package. Additionally, you will have the unique opportunity to engage with our dedicated team of hundreds of HMMT volunteers by hosting an event before either tournament, such as poker tournaments or dinners. You will also have the ability to share internship opportunities through our mailing list and have access to our volunteer resume book. Finally, your company's logo will be included on the HMMT photobooth backdrop at check-in and the awards ceremony.

The following package is offered independently of the tiers above. Any sponsor may purchase it on its own, in addition to any other package, and for either or both tournaments.

Independent

The Independent package is priced at $3,000 and includes access to the competitors' mailing list for one tournament.

If you have any other events or opportunities in mind that are not mentioned above, we would be eager to learn more about them.

Tournament Update

We're so excited for you to join us in the 2026-27 season of HMMT! This past season, we were able to support over 122 students attending on financial aid (covering registration fees and hotel rooms). We're proud to have provided free breakfast and lunch to all competitors and volunteers as well as free shirts with company branding. Since our return to an in-person format, we've also seen rising costs in booking venues at Harvard and MIT to host the tournament. We would love your contribution in making this year's tournaments a special experience. Your sponsorship supports us in covering costs like room rentals, security enforcement, catering, competitor shirts, printing fees, and financial aid.

By joining forces with HMMT, you will have access to a unique platform to showcase your brand, connect with a highly engaged and talented audience, and demonstrate your commitment to STEM education. Let us work together to inspire the next generation of problem solvers!
